The Devolution Officer.

365. MR. P. K. NARAYANA PILLAI (Ambalapuzha): (1) Has the Devolution Officer, Mr. N. Nilakanta Pillai, submitted his report to the Government?

(2) If so, will the Government be pleased to place a copy of the report on the table?

(3) Is it a fact that the system of accounts pursued by the State has no place for the audit of the incomes or revenues of the State?

(4) Has there been any audit of the incomes of the State?

MR. K. GEORGE (Ag. Chief Secretary to Government): (1) The Devolution Officer has submitted his proposals part by part. His report on the audit of receipts has not yet been received.

(2) The question will be considered after the report is received and examined.

(3) There is no audit of revenue by a central agency. But, according to the system prevailing, departmental controlling officers are required to see that all revenue due is realised and that all realisations are brought to account and remitted into a Government treasury.

(4) The outside audit staff of the Account Office check either in full or partially the receipts of the offices which they periodically inspect.
